- Al Strange: Appealed to guest speaker, Ms. Wendy Gruel, Los Angeles City Controller, for financial help in getting a Boys and Girls Club in Highland Park.
- C.—Wendy Gruel, City Controller of Los Angeles
- 7 sources of revenue for L.A. Four of the seven will have small increases this year, but the main source of revenue, Property Taxes, will NOT BRING IN MORE REVENUE. She discussed her audit of DWP and whether DWP will Meet “clean energy goals.” She is not optimistic; the DWP has just been luck so far. Redlight cameras: caught by cameras, $465 fine, but collection rate is very Poor because LAPD officers down grade it in their reports and so they cost the City rather than bring in revenue. Also, at those intersections with cameras the evidence is mixed as to whether they help reduce accidents—50% intersections are lower, 50% are higher. License plate recognition equipment: wonderful, but again LAPD officers don't have vehicles towed away, instead let drivers drive off so the number of drivers with 5 unpaid tickets, "Scofflaws," the City's collection rate is only 53%. Now you are never going to collect Fire Dept. and Emergency Medical vehicles breaking the law, but a 53% collection rate means that the cameras cost the City $2 million a year, rather than being a source of income. City has to be more efficient and effective. Laura Chick, her predecessor, found that the City Council only "hears" 56% of the audits made by the City Controller. Public Safety is the City's number one priority. Too often the City has used short term fixes, e.g., it has sold the "Mangold? Property" three times in its budget and it still owns it!!! Last year the City got down at one point to onl $30 million in its reserve fund at one point. City needs a VISION of where we want to go as a City. Gruel had 12 Neighborhood Councils in her district—a good thing. L.A. is like a Cobb Salad that is not mixed together but are distinct cultural groups. You get to know L.A. by walking and biking parts of it. NCs are to bring City Hall closer to home. Questions: If you become Mayor will you support an inflation factor for the NCs--$50,000 is no longer worth $50,000. Yes, there should be an inflation factor, because most NCs are doing worthwhile things for their communities. Question: You are in a legal battle on doing audits. Why? Predecessor wanted to audit the City Attorney's Office and she has continued the suit because she believes the City Controller has and should have the power to audit all parts of the L.A. City structure.

D.--LAFD Chief McKnight: 22 Fire Depts. are closed every day—we are depending in crises on CERT units. Critical Emergency Response Teams are absolutely critical. Appealed to the stakeholders to get CERT training. Spanish classes start May 2—2 hours an evening two times a week for 7 weeks. English classes in CERT will start Aug. 23.

His battalion consists of Fire Stations 12, 42, 44, 55, and 56. He has been here only three weeks, but has been a member of the L.A. City Fire Dept. for 25 years. CERTs are community-based teams. In an emergency you need 2-way radios, and need to learn how to be Ham Radio Operators. You should prepare a Backpack with 7 days water, food, 2nd. prescriptions in your car so you can get your medications during any emergency—5 gallons of water for 7 days, per person. Have a bucket for human waste—very necessary.

Ramona Hall at 6:30 p.m. Tom Topping has promised to correct the Boulevard Sentinels Calendar listing for the Council, from Franklin H.S. to the Senior Center.
